

What our clients said about us

"We are both very happy with the wedding pictures. The day goes so fast and all you have left at the end is pictures and memories and I can't stop looking at mine. They captured every bit of the day which was really important to me when I was looking for a photographer."

"They were very reliable and filled us with confidence leading up to the wedding day. On the day they were very professional but also friendly and fun everyone at the wedding thought they were great! The end result was brilliant and we love our album and all the pictures that were taken- the perfect memory of our wedding day!!"

"Their skill and experience is reflected in their photographs - they took some exceptional photographs at our wedding. We are so proud of our wedding album and love showing it off to people. The equipment they use must be very good considering the quality of the night time photos. They arranged people in the group photos to ensure nobody looked out of place. Our wedding album was artfully designed by them and no detail was missed, for example in the background of the album page when the bride was getting ready with her bridesmaids there was a close up of the embroidery on the brides dress. We would not hesitate recommending AJ Imaging to any other couples getting married."

"We couldn't of asked for better photographers, every photo was taken in a different location which although we did not realise at the time made for some wonderful pictures. You almost did not realise they were there most of the time, superb"

"Very friendly and not pushy at the wedding fayre hence why I phoned for a quote. Suggested a pre meeting where they made us feel very welcome, during this meeting they went through all the options available. At no point was there any pressure to commit. Once we had made the decision to book them all paperwork, etc was made and very straightforward. Their advice up to the big day was second to none particularly around timings. They listened to all our concerns, wishes and we are so happy with the finished product - so glad we went with them."

"Excellent service, have already recommended them and will continue to do so. I hated having my photo taken before meeting Jo and Andy, however my wedding photos are absolutely perfect, better than I ever imagined. Such an eye for detail. Totally not intrusive."

"Andy & Jo were the perfect photographers for our Wedding day, they were organised, professional and took the most creative shots that captured our day perfectly. Many thanks again for a first class service."

"we were thrilled with our photographs, Andy and Jo are so friendly and made us feel completely at ease, the level of service before, during and after our special day was amazing. We really hope that you put them through for this award as it is thoroughly deserved."

"Andy and Jo are absolutely perfect! They made us feel at ease from the very first meeting we had and were always flexible and helpful. They photographed our wedding beautifully and both my Husband and I are thrilled with the photos and albums and everyone who has seen them has no end of compliments for how brilliant the photos look and have well the album has been out together. Andy and Jo were always at the end of the phone or an email whenever we had a question or needed some advice. They were brilliant on the day, helping to co-ordinate things and making everyone feel at ease. They took the trouble to learn the names of everyone in the bridal party before the day. They gave us exactly what we wanted and more and their excellent service has continued well after the wedding itself. I'd recommend them to anyone in a heartbeat."

"AJ Imaging were excellent and very friendly throughout the process but I knew that as they were the photographers for my brother's wedding. The information on their packages was very clear and easy to understand. They offer a brilliant range to suit all budgets and styles. They like to meet with couples prior to the wedding at the venue to run through the day, timings, likes, any family issues and who to have in what photos. Were a huge help on the day keeping me on track getting ready and even helped tie my Dads cravat. They are great with children. Would definitely recommend them for value, friendliness, easy to approach, amazing photos and very professional made the whole experience a joy"

"Fantastic husband and wife team , covered all aspects of the day for a very reasonable price . The end results were amazing and I also received a cd with all my pictures of the day on that i could print off to make my own albums for family"

"The couple were extremely organised and experienced and knew exactly what pictures would work best for us. They already knew the venue and church well and talked us through everything we needed to know."

"Andy and Jo were very friendly from the point of first meeting them. They were fantastic on the day and put all our guests at their ease. Everyone thought it was brilliant that Jo used a megaphone to make sure everyone could hear her. We thought it was fantastic that Andy and Jo made sure every single person could be seen in the main group photo of all the guests; no one was hidden. I've not seen this in any other wedding group shot. This sort of attention to detail ensured that our wedding photos provide us with wonderful memories of a wonderful day. So many people have told us they've not seen nicer wedding photos than ours."

"Andy and Jo were absolutely fantastic throughout our whole time dealing with them. They made us feel at ease and took wonderful pictures that were arranged beautifully in a fab album."

"We were absolutely delighted with the quality of service we received from AJ Imaging. Nothing was too much trouble, everything was discussed carefully and we were aware of all the options that were available to us. Andy and Jo were great on the day and helped to ease our nerves. They fitted into the day very easily and respected the lay back approach we wanted. We were over the moon with the photos and the aftercare was fantastic, we took our time choosing the photos for our album and Andy and Jo kept re-drafting our album until we were totally satisfied with it. I would highly recommend Andy and Jo to anyone who wants a fantastic wedding photographer!!"

"AJ Imaging were recommended to us by a close friend who had used them for their own wedding. From the moment we met Andy and Jo we were incredibly impressed by the professional service they offered. Their photos were of an extremely high quality and could be presented in a range of ways. It was clear that they really cared about what their clients wanted - which was not the case with other photographers that we met. As well as meeting them for the initial meeting where we went through the different options available and saw beautiful samples of their work we also then met them at the venue where they walked us through the day and made very useful suggestions. Jo also gave sensitive support to my father. My mother had passed away recently and my dad felt able to ask Jo questions about the organisation of the wedding that he was a little nervous about. They played a very important part of the day and were a joy to have at our wedding. They were unobtrusive and very helpful and were calming and had a great sense of humour. They captured all our happy memories beautiful from the informal to the formal shots. They managed everything in a smooth and professional way entertaining the many children and making sure that more elderly relatives didn't have to stand for any length of time. Many of our guests commented on their excellent manner. We could not be more pleased with our photographs. They were exactly what we wanted and are presented beautifully. We regularly look at our album and it brings back incredibly happy memories of the day. We cannot thank Andy and Jo enough for our beautiful photographs but also for the part they played in making our wedding incredibly special."

"Working as a married couple makes the photos come in two perspectives which adds value to the package"

"AJ Imaging surpassed our expectations of a wedding photographer. They gave us a wonderful preliminary consultation in which they gave us advice and told us in advance things we would later need to think about in all aspects of our wedding, not just the photography. They really shared our excitement and were genuinely interested in the little touches we were planning to add to our special day. A few weeks before the wedding they gave us a test photo shoot where we could plan the photographs and trial hair and makeup and give us a chance to practise how we stand together. They even asked us if we had a 'good' side or any issues with photographs and how we look and supported us through this. They gave us encouragement and little tips and we liked the photographs from the test shoot so much that we used them at our wedding in our stationary and as decorations by having them put onto canvas. On the day of the wedding they could not have been better. They had already sent us schedules and worked through the timings with us and coordinated with Dumbleton Hall on this and, while managing our guests for us, they were still flexible and willing to go with the day. They were always there when we needed and wanted them and, because there were two of them, they covered so much ground and captured so many of our guests in photographs. They were understanding and told us that if we wanted to stop and just get away for a while we should just tell them, which was nice. They were so friendly that our guests all said how much they liked them and how fun the photography was. They seemed to have a real gift for capturing the spirit of the day and the photographs are stunning. We felt like we had made two new friends and they said such nice things to us after the wedding. They have been fantastic in putting together our wedding album, being so swift and prompt and really paying attention to the small changes we suggested. It looks beautiful and we can't wait to see the finished product. Three friends asked for their details after the wedding to pass on to friends of theirs who are getting married which says a lot about the impression they left!"

Why they booked us

"From our first meeting we found them very personable and felt that they worked with us and took our ideas into consideration. Their style of photography really suited what we wanted for our day."

"From reviewing friend's wedding albums, our initial meeting with Andy and Jo as they were both particularly responsive to the types of photos we wanted to be taken. Oh yeah and the fact they were able to straighten my jaw out, the wonders of playing football!!!"

"They really stood out from all the rest at a wedding fair, very approachable, friendly, listened to what we wanted, made suggestions that we hadn't considered and fabulous photographs."

"after walking through the door we just knew they were for us . My husband was very picky about the photography, one of the only aspects he focused on, as they worked as a team they were able to get a more rounded approach to the wedding."

"When we went to meet them they spent a lot of time showing us all of our options and a lot of time getting to know us as a couple. They were very organised and we felt very comfortable with them straight away."

"Beautiful photographs, high quality products, and two wonderful people who were very easy to get along with, made us feel very comfortable and helped us so much before, during and after the day."

"Because they are excellent"

"We warmed to them straight away because they seemed to have a genuine interest in our day and who we were."

"Met with Andy & Jo and were professional and quality of photos were better than other photographers."

"The quality and choice of wedding albums. In the end we chose an album with an acrylic cover with our favourite picture from the day on it - we have not seen another wedding photographer that offers such an amazing product!"

"Friendly, personable, liked the fact you got 2 photographers and quality of the finished product"

"Friendly, not pushy, really nice people who happen to be excellent photographers"

"like the Andy and Jo great people skills easy to get along with."

"They were highly recommended by a friend."

"We chose A J Imaging because there was two of them, they are both really friendly & their quality of work is very good"

"I liked the stand that Andy and Jo had at a wedding fayre I attended, they were very approachable and friendly. I liked the look of the albums they had on display, especially the one that had been done at our wedding venue."

"The high quality of their photographs but also because they very much cared about what we wanted and made sure that we got the photographs that we asked for. Other photographers that we met very much tried to force their style on us."

"They seemed friendly and a great team, they had great chemistry with each other and with us and they really seemed to know what they were talking about but seemed really passionate about weddings and photography!"
